C. F. A. Voysey

English architect and designer Charles F.A. Voysey (1857-1941) produced a wide range of textiles and other patterns over a career spanning 50 years. His style, characterized by bold repeats, natural forms, flat tints of colour and a pared back simplicity, is quickly identifiable. Crafters will delight in his patterns, which retain their original freshness.

For this Voysey collection, the designer's love of nature and preferred color palette take center stage. The rich color is slightly muted and the prints mix the bold with the simple in a way that will never go out of style.
